DETAILED ACTION

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it exceeds 150 words and should be in single page. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Objections

Claims 1-6 are objected to because of the following informalities: There is an apparent lack of punctuation in the claim language, for example, in claim 1, line 1, after "comprising", there should be a colon (:); and thereafter, each additional claim limitation should be separated by a semi-colon (;). Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 1, "all of them" is indefinite and lacks proper antecedent support; The essential structural cooperative relationships of elements among the "well jet device", the "tubing string", the "packer", a jet pump, the "body of an active nozzle", the "mixing chamber", the "diffuser", the "stepped through channel", the "flexible tube" and the "logging device" are lacking, , such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections between the elements as a whole. It is also improper to include a logging device as a "well jet device" as both are of different apparatus. The relationship between the "well jet device" and the "logging device" must be more clearly defined.

The phrase "for example" or "e.g." renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitation(s) following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claim 2, the language "at its lower end" is indefinite as it is not clear where the lower end of the flexible tube is located. It is confusing that how holes could exist at the end of a tubular with exception of a throughbore ?

Claims 4- 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential steps, such omission amounting to a gap between the steps. See MPEP § 2172.01.

Claims 4-6 are also rejected as being indefinite in that they fails to point out what is included or excluded by the claim languages. These claims are omnibus type claims.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-6 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
